Why sponsor Women Build?

Sponsor Women Build for families like Ms. Lula, who at age 62, was able to purchase a new home. Ms. Lula believed owning her own home was not in her future after she was turned down by traditional lenders, however, partnering with Habitat transformed her need for a quality affordable home into a reality and like Erick & Tamara and their two sons, who when asked what it meant to have a home for their family said, “it’s an amazing feeling because we have accomplished something that a lot of people will probably never do in their entire lives, buy their own home or even go through the process of buying a home. I tell people every single day that no matter what when you own your own home you have that sense of pride that it is yours to do what you want, you can paint a wall, change carpet. You leave a legacy for your children, that is something that’s worth a lot to pass on to your children it’s yours, something you own...a great accomplishment”.

Sponsor Women Build for our families struggling to maintain their home like Mr. Titus, a 63-year-old US Army veteran who has lived in his family home in Moss Point his entire life with the exception of the time of his military service. The 50 year old home has been maintained as best possible by Mr. Titus given his limited Social Security income, VA pension, and physical limitations. The flooring was literally sinking and the only bathroom toilet was leveled by a brick. Thanks to the Habitat for Humanity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast weatherization program, funded by Mississippi Power, and veteran repair program, funded by the Home Depot Foundation, Mr. Titus was able to receive a complete bathroom remodel, HVAC servicing, and attic insulation (to help reduce heating and energy costs). Habitat Mississippi Gulf Coast is now working to secure the funds to address the issues not covered by funding partners. The work done to Mr. Titus’ home thus far has made it a safer living environment, however, he could benefit from a complete flooring system overhaul as his home has more serious structural flooring issues than either program could address.

Sponsor Women Build for those helped by our Financial Foundation Program, like local veterans who by attending Habitat MS Gulf Coast’s courses offered at the Biloxi VA and enrolling in one-on-one financial coaching now have the confidence and tools needed to improve their credit and successfully manage day to day spending!

Habitat for Humanity of the Mississippi Gulf Coast is a non-profit charitable organization, qualified under Sec 501(c)(3) of the IRS Code. Your contribution is deducted to the extent provided by the law.
